within seconds, evan started screaming "it burns, it burns!"

locals, explore hot spots in town and improve your Dutch skills as you go. All sessions start in a local.

this has to do with imbalance of the relatively increased sympathetic or decreased parasympathetic tone of the ans.

growing exports of any product made in Canada appeals to many Canadians' "industrial virility complex." Proof of the quality and importance of any output made in Canada is that it finds a market abroad.

the prices for patented (or brand) medications are set by the manufacturers; however, these prices are regulated by the Patented Medicines Prices Review Board (pmprb).

someone oncounterspin last night argued very vigorously that it was not.